McDonald's aids manager fighting cancer

Five McDonald's restaurants in the Newark, Bear-Glasgow and Middletown areas are going to bat for a long-time manager who is battling cancer.

Natalie Collins has worked for the restaurants of franchisee Dukart Management Corp. since the age of 15.

She cannot work and bills are piling up, according to Les Dukart, McDonald's owner/operator of the restaurants.

From Sept. 21 through October 4th, the restaurants will donate 25 cents of every Arctic Orange Milkshake, sold between Sept. 21 through Oct. 4th.

The five restaurants participating in the promotion are on College Avenue, Newark; Main Street, Newark; Glasgow Avenue, Newark/Glasgow; Governor's Place, Bear; and Middletown. Collins has worked at each of these restaurants during her career at McDonald's.

According to Dukart, the restaurants hope to raise thousands of dollars from the fund-raising effort.

Movies, food at Glasgow Park

On Saturday September 26th from 6 p.m. until 10p.m., Summer Send-Off will take place at Glasgow Park. The event will have kids activities, door prizes, raffles, food and a movie.

The event is hosted by the Friends of Glasgow Park and the Ronnie Williams Foundation and proceeds will benefit their non-profit organizations. The goal of the Ronnie Williams Foundation is to pass on the memory and legacy of Delaware State Police Cpl. Ronald Williams, Jr. through dedication to law enforcement causes, the safety of our families and education of future law enforcement officers.

The Friends of Glasgow Park is a non-profit organization of volunteers dedicated to maintaining and enhancing Glasgow Park for the enjoyment of everyone. In conjunction with New Castle County & State officials, members and all residents, the Friends strive to make Glasgow Park an all-inclusive recreational park.

The event is sponsored by Chick-fil-A (Bear) where tickets are available to

Delmarva Power offers green billing

The utility will offer its half a million customers in the region the option of paying the bill online through the company's website, Delmarva.com. Payments can also be set up so they are made automatically through your checking.

Delmarva stresses that signing up for the bill is strictly voluntary.

In addition to lowering paper consumption, the bill offers other savings to customers and the company in mailing costs. This is not good news for the U.S. Postal Service, which has seen a sharp drop in mail volume as utilities and credit card companies offer the paperless option.

Online users have one piece of advice to those who want to make green payments. Keep user names and passwords in a safe place. It can be a hassle to remember everything and for security reasons you want to have different passwords and user ids for each bill.

Valero cutting 250 jobs

Oil refiner Valero announced it will cut 250 jobs at its Delaware City refinery, south and east of Bear. The plant typically has about double that number of workers on site.

The company intends to shut down the coker and gasifier complex at the Delaware City refinery. The coker is expected to be idle at least until the outlook for coking economics improves, while the closure of the gasifier complex is for an indefinite period.
